The author has not only traced the origin of the day of celebration, but also has explained in brief the present scenario with regard to implementation of several Court judgements passed recently which are of interest to the Pensioners' community. He requested to read pensioners the article. Shri Radhakrishna, in his welcome address also briefly touched upon the famous 'Nakra Judgement' of 17.12.1882, which is known as the 'Magna Carta of Pensioners' and which has found a place in the Guinness Book of World Records. As a result of this judgement, from 1986 (4th CPC), Central Government pensioners are getting their pension re-fixed every time the salary of the serving employees is revised. Subsequently, the Government is liberalising pension rules with every Pay Commissions on demand from Pensioners Associations. As an expression of gratitude and to commemorate the delivery of this historic judgement, every year, the day is celebrated

- as 'Pensioners' Day' throughout India.

- 5. Dr. Venkatesh gave a demonstration lecture with power point presentation on 'Yoga for Senior Citizens'. He explained that the word 'Yoga' is derived from 'Yuj', which means 'to unite or integrate'. Yoga is 5000 year old and is a contribution of India to the world. It is taught and practised throughout the world today. Yoga is all about harmonising the body with mind and breath through the means of various breathing exercises, poses (aasanas) and meditation. Yoga is explained in Bhagavadgita, the ancient Indian text, in the form of dialogue between Lord Krishna and Arjuna. Sage Patanjali is credited with codifying Yoga in the present form, even though yoga was being practised before him. Dr. Venkatesh explained that the difference between other forms of exercise and yoga is that yoga is not merely a body exercise but it creates harmony between body and mind. Breathing is very important in yoga. While referring to 'Ashtanga Yoga' he informed that 8 limbs of Asthanga yoga are: Yama, Niyama, Aasana, Pranayama, Prathyahara, Dharana and Samadhi. The first five are of Bahiranga Shuddhi and the last three are for Antharanaga Shuddhi. Asana means posture. Avama is stretch, extend and restrain.

6. Dr. Venkatesh went on to explain the many benefits of Yoga for seniors. He said that Yoga helps keep the joints steady and flexible; helps maintain healthy bones and muscles; improves digestion and clears bowel movements and regulates blood pressure. Perhaps one of the best things about Yoga for seniors is the chance to mingle and bond with others, which results in keeping the mind engaged and happy and alleviates depression and loneliness. He said that the general barriers for yoga practice are - have not practised Yoga before, time, place and fear of committing mistakes - and advised the audience to overcome these barriers. He told the audience to enjoy yoga at any age, keeping in mind some guidelines like-

Substitute warm-ups with brisk walking.

Practise Yoga under a trained teacher and discuss your ailments with him/her.

Focus on repeating poses rather than holding any pose.

Rest adequately with each pose.

Make sure that your body has adjusted to your daily yoga routine before trying out new aasanas.

- 7. Dr. Venktesh showed slides of various Aasanas and made the audience practice with him pranayama and some of the simple aasanas for the beginners, which the audience enjoyed. He also explained the benefits of regular meditation viz., free from stress, better sleep, increases metabolism, increases immunity etc. He asked them to visit the website www.artofliving.org for more information. He also showed slides of Yoga poses to control Diabetes, Asthma and on Spine care. He guoted Abe Lincoln - "And in the end, it's not the years in your life that count. It's the LIFE in your YEARS". He concluded his speech with an advice to everybody to practice Yoga and enjoy its manifold benefits. He thanked the Co-ordination Committee for giving him an opportunity to interact with the Pensioners.
- 8. Shri Radhakrishna thanked Dr.Venkatesh for the interesting and informative speech, which everyone enjoyed and hoped that it would inspire many with taking up Yoga. Shri K.B.Krishna Rao, Chairman honoured Dr.Venkatesh by presenting him a bouquet, shawl and fruit basket.

NATIONAL PENSION SYSTEM (NPS)-NEGATION OF NAKRA JUDGMENT

S Radhakrishna, General Secretary, CCCGPA, Karnataka

Introduction

Pensioners in India celebrate December 17 as Pensioners' Day. This was the day in the year 1982, the Constitution Bench of Supreme Court headed by then Chief Justice Chandrachud delivered judgment in the famous case known as "Nakra Case" on the goals of pension scheme which stated that:

- * A pension scheme consistent with available resources must provide that the pensioner would be able to live
- Free from want and with decency, independence and self-respect
- ii. At standard equivalent at the preretirement level
- * Pension is neither a bounty nor a matter of grace depending on the sweet will of the employer and that creates a vested right subject to statutory rules;
- * Pension is not an ex-gratia payment, but it is a payment for the past service rendered:
- * It is a social welfare measure rendering socio-economic justice to those who in the heyday of their life ceaselessly toiled for the employer on an assurance that in their old age they would not be left in the lurch:
- * Pensioners form a class by themselves and this class is not divisible for purposes of entitlements and payment of pension to those who retire 'before' and those who retire 'after' a certain date arbitrarily fixed for the purpose.

This judgment resulted in pay commissions starting from IV CPC onwards looking into the pensionary benefits of those who had already retired and making recommendations. As a result of the judgment, today the pensioners have periodical revision of pension including revision of pension on notional pay as and when pay scales of serving employees are revised. While we celebrate Pensioners Day, we have to find an answer to the question: By introducing contributory pension system under National Pension System from 1-1-2004 whether the Nakra judgment has been negated in letter and spirit? Analysis of NPS provisions gives answer to this question as YES.

Civil Service Pension

The concept of pension as old age security in India dates back to the 3rd century. According to Sukraneethi which lavs down guidance for kings in management of State affairs, a king had to pay half of the wages for people who had completed forty years of service. Initially Civil service pension in India was in the nature of contributory pension. In 1881 the civil establishments under British colonial rule, for retirement benefits, employees were contributing 4 percent of their salary. But this scheme was confined only to European employees in the establishments. From 1st January 1920 for these employees option was given to switchover to retire on a pension proportionate to their service and practice of contribution towards pension was abolished and provident fund scheme was introduced to non-European employees. Commutation of pension up to fifty percent of the pension was also granted in 1924. Provisions of pension benefits were further strengthened in the Government of India Act 1935. The civil servant pension system in India originated on the lines of the UK system. After independence, the pension was further liberalized based on the recommendations of first CPC when age of retirement was fixed uniformly to all employees at 58 years and pension was fixed 1/80 of emoluments for each year of service subject to a maximum of 35 years. This was further liberalized based on the III CPC to a maximum of 33 years of service and calculation of average emoluments was reduced from 36 months to 10 months from 29-2-1976. This was further liberalized from 1-4-1979. Slab system of calculation of monthly pension was introduced. This was further liberalized from 1-1-1986 when 50 percent of average emoluments as pension was introduced but linkage with 33 years of service for full pension were retained. Based on VI CPC recommendations from 1.1.2006, linkage of service for full pension was abolished and 50 percent of last pay drawn as pension was introduced. All these changes in pension system are for those who are governed by CCS (Pension) Rules 1972. The Government has introduced 'New Contributory Pension Scheme' for those who joined central civil services after 1-1-2004. Thus reforms in pension which started in 1920 has come a full circle and Government has reverted back to contributory pension scheme which was in existence and abolished from 1-1-1920. Contribution from employees has been increased, with no guarantee of any minimum pension or any commitment to pay pension by Government.

National Pension System:

India was facing one of the worst economic crises in 1990 with balance of payment crisis resulting in our gold reserve being deposited in Bank of England. To overcome the crisis the Government introduced new economic policies popularly known as Globalisation, Liberalisation and Privatisation policy. The Government entered into an agreement for soft loan with international funding agencies which had imposed various conditions for granting loan. One of the conditions was reformation in then existing pension schemes and extending social security pension network.On the basis of the decision taken in the Eleventh Conference of State Finance Secretaries held in the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) during January 2003, a Group was constituted by the RBI in February 2003 to study the pension liabilities of the State Governments and make suitable recommendations. This group was headed by BK

Bhattacharjee former Chief Secretary of Government of Karnataka. The group submitted its report in October 2003. The report recommended introduction of Contributory pension scheme to avoid steep increase in pension liability. It also recommended creation of "Pension Fund" to be kept completely outside the States' Consolidated Fund and the Public Account. The Govt. introduced contributory pension scheme called New Pension Scheme for all those who joined service from 1-1-2004 onwards in Government, Autonomous, and Statuary Institutions. Subsequently different State Governments opted for the scheme on different dates. As of date, all State Governments except West Bengal are under this scheme. The scheme got statuary backing by notification of PFRDA Act in the Gazette on 13 September 2013. It is now known as National Pension System.

NPS Resulted in Negation of Nakra Judgment

1. One of the important aspects of Supreme Court judgment in DS Nakra case is Pensioners' form a class by themselves and this class is not divisible for purposes of entitlements and payment of pension to those who retire 'before' and those who retire 'after' a certain date arbitrarily fixed for the purpose. By introducing NPS two classes of pensioners have been created by Government as pensioners who had joined service prior to 1-1-2004 and those who joined service after 1-1-2004. Those who joined service prior to 1-1-2004 and retired are now getting minimum pension of Rs.9000 plus DR per month. But those who joined service after 1-1-2004 and retired are not getting minimum pension. Many of the Grameen Daksevaks who were regularised after 1-1-2004 and retired after 10 to 14 years of service are not getting minimum pension of Rs.9000, and in many cases it is less than Rs.1000 or around Rs.1000 to Rs.1500. Those GDS who were regularised prior to 1-1-2004 are getting pension much higher than Rs.9000 but definitely not less than Rs.9000 plus DR.

- 2. As a result of Supreme Court judgment and continuous pressure by pensioners and serving employees Assn., 7th CPC recommended parity between past pensioners and those who retired after 1-1-2016. Government accepted the recommendation with modification of notionally fixing the pay in revised scale at the stage in which one retired. As a result of this decision pay of all those who had retired/died before 1-1-2016 was notionally re-fixed in the revised pay structure and pension/family pension was revised from 1-1-2016. This benefit has not been granted to those who joined service after 1-1-2004 and retired. This is another aspect where Supreme Court judgment has been negated.
- 3. Supreme Court stated that pension is a social welfare measure rendering socioeconomic justice to those who in the heyday of their life ceaselessly toiled for the employer on an assurance that in their old age they would not be left in the lurch. The NPS has totally annulled this principle. The NPS does not provide any explicit or implicit assurance of benefits except market based guarantee mechanism to be purchased by the subscriber [Section 20(2)(e) of PFRDA Act]. On retirement or exit from NPS at the age of 60, subscriber has to invest 40% of the accumulated fund in annuities and if exit is prior to 60 years, 80% of the fund has to be invested in annuities. Based on the market performance of these annuities, the pension amount is determined. If the returns on annuities is not very good then pension amount would also be less. In present market trends net asset value of annuity of Rs10 is around Rs.7. Pension dependent on the market performance means that there is every posibility of a pensioner being left in the lurch without any pension. Thus in spirit and letter DS Nakra judgment has been negated in case of those who are governed by NPS.

Future Task

The question before us is can we allow a system where a person who has put in best part of his life in the service of Government. after retirement in the evening of his life, be allowed to be in anxiety of no pension or very small pension? The answer is obviously no. Initially when the scheme was introduced there was doubt in certain sections of employees' organisations that NPS may be more beneficial than defined pension scheme. With the experience of those who retired under NPS now every section of employees organisations have realised that they have to fight back to reverse the NPS and restore old pension system (OPS). At present about 20 lack out of 32 lack central Government employees and about 37 lack of State Government employees are under NPS. The enormity of problem is now being realised. As a result employees of both State Governments and Central Government are coming under common platform to fight for restoration of OPS. As a result of pressure by employees State Governments of Kerala, Punjab and Andhra Pradesh have constituted committees to review the scheme. Karnataka Government has also announced that they will constitute a committee. Delhi Government has adopted a resolution favouring restoration of OPS and forwarded it to Central Government. Confederation of CGEs has called upon all Central Government employees to join the General strike of workers on 8 and 9 of January 2019 on 10 point charter of demands, of which scrapping of NPS is a main demand. The confederation is also planning for indefinite strike with only one demand of scrapping of NPS. Pensioners who are enjoying the benefit of defined pension cannot be silent when future generation of employees are fighting for restoration of OPS. If the spirit of Nakra judgment is to be restored pensioners have to extend full support to the struggles of serving employees for restoration of OPS. Joint intensive struggle will definitely bring positive results. Let us encourage and involve in the struggle of workers for honourable retirement benefits as enunciated in Supreme Court judgment. While celebrating Pensioners' day let us take a pledge to support the struggle of employees for restoration of OPS.

Dept of Telecom has issued the official minutes on the talks held between the AUAB leaders and Shri Manoj Sinha, Hon'ble Minister of State for Communications on 3-12-2018. Regarding Pension Revision to BSNL retirees w.e.f 1-1-2017 it is stated in the Minutes:-

"Minister emphasized that follow up action should be expeditiously taken..."

Though there is no commitment on the fitment formula or anything related to that, there is a positive welcome change in the views of the DOT on pension revision.

Respected Sri Sadashiva Rao Sir,

Congratulations to your good self in tracing the history of "Pensioners' Day" observed on 17th December and its importance. The achievements of pensioners through assiduous and persevering efforts made by you and the associations like ours are worth celebrating. It is with the profound knowledge at your command on judicial pronouncements on pension matters that you have dwelled deep in to the subject matter which updates and reminds those of us who are not aware of the 'history of pension revision', except perhaps of the name "Nakra Judgement"

Kudos to your Sir, for the painstaking job that you and the office bearers of our association have done.
